

My heartfelt greetings to the President, Secretary sir, Vice-Presidents, and Past Presidents present on stage off the stage. I extend my utmost respect, blessings, and love to all the members gathered here today.

As you know, you receive my taxation updates regularly. Taxation is an extensive and ever-evolving subject, and we strive to keep you informed of any changes in real-time. Many of my colleagues diligently send you additional updates periodically.

I believe our committee stands out because of the collective contributions from everyone involved. While each committee convener presents their report, as his working in past few months. While we go the extra mile by sharing timely updates with you, ensuring you stay well-informed, so nothing is left in my report.

We are committed to delivering accurate information promptly. To achieve this, we hold monthly Zoom meetings with all our committee members. During these sessions, we discuss and decide on the most valuable information to share and the best ways to communicate it effectively.

In response to past feedback about lengthy articles, we have shortened them significantly this time. The detailed versions are available to our committee members, and if any specific individual requires more information, we can provide it without causing inconvenience to everyone.

Additionally, I'd like to invite you to a live session now, where you can present any issues or questions you have. I will do my best to address them immediately. This will not only help solve your problem but also benefit other members.

If any member has any confusion, problem, or idea related to taxation that they find challenging to understand, please feel free to share it now. Even after this meeting, I am available here or reachable by phone 24 hours a day. You can contact me anytime.

Thank you for listing me patiently.

Yours younger brother
